

Stone Awarded National Construction Honors by Associated Builders and Contractors

BIRMINGHAM, AL, March 20—Stone today announced its work on the Coca-Cola Amphitheater in Birmingham, AL and Livano Liberty Park in Vestavia Hills, AL have earned a national Excellence in Construction Eagle Award. In addition, their work on the Auburn University Jordan Hare Stadium North End Zone Scoreboard has earned a national Excellence in Construction Pyramid Award. All of these awards were presented during ABC Convention 2026 in Salt Lake City on March 19.

The EIC Awards celebrate 86 of the nation's top construction projects from 2025, including school relocations; convention center, courthouse and beach resort renovations; and the construction of science parks, apartments and hospitals, as well as honoring contractors for their remarkable achievements in leadership, health and safety, innovation and merit.

“Communities thrive when infrastructure is built and rebuilt with excellence, just like these projects completed by the team at Stone,” said 2026 Chair of the ABC National Board of Directors Thomas “Murph” Murphy, vice president of Power & Construction Group, Scottsville, New York. “ABC’s EIC Awards celebrate achievements in both construction projects as well as recognizing quality, safety and innovation that these teams deliver. These projects honored at the 36th annual gala are an example of ABC contractor members’ remarkable achievements in leadership, safety, innovation and merit. Congratulations to Stone for showcasing the pinnacle of construction excellence.”

The EIC Awards honor each member of the construction team, including the contractor, owner, architect and engineer. The winning projects are judged on complexity, unique challenges overcome, completion time, innovation and safety.

A panel of industry experts served as the competition's judges. This year's judges included representatives from the Design-Build Institute of America, Engineering News-Record, the Construction Owners Association of America, the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority, the National Institute of Building Sciences, ShareBuilt, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and other select construction-related organizations nationwide.
